The trip-reveal kit

Everything you need to surprise your family with a Disney vacation on Christmas morning: two reveal cards, a six-clue treasure hunt and a countdown calendar.

How to pull off the big reveal

1. Print on card stock (pages 2–4) and cut along the dashed lines. Color printing makes it pop, but black and white works too.
2. Fill in the blanks on the reveal card: tick where you're going and write your departure date.
3. Hide the six clue cards around the house the night before. Each clue points to the next spot; write the hiding place on the bottom of the card before it so you don't forget.
4. Put the reveal card at the last stop, inside a gift box, a stocking or a wrapped pair of sunglasses.
5. Film their faces. Prop your phone up before the first clue is opened. You'll watch it a hundred times.
6. Hang the countdown on the fridge and let the kids cross off a sleep every night.

More reveal ideas families love

- ★ Wrap a suitcase with the card inside
- ★ Hide the card in a box of sunscreen and flip-flops
- ★ A "plane ticket" envelope in the stocking
- ★ A puzzle with the destination on the back
- ★ Balloons in a box that pop out with the card
- ★ Matching family T-shirts under the tree

Haven't booked it yet? That's what we do.

We plan and book every detail for you, at the same price as booking with Disney, with no planning fee for eligible bookings. Get a free quote at lifetimeofmagic.com/contact and we'll have options to you before the big day.

THE TREASURE HUNT

Six clues to the big surprise

Suggested spots are in the clues; change them to fit your house. Write the next hiding place on the line at the bottom of each card.

CLUE 1

Santa left one more present, but it's not under the tree. To start the hunt, look where we keep the cereal and the tea.

Next clue hides: _____

CLUE 2

Nice work, detective! Now head to the spot where clean socks and shirts all go when they come out hot.

Next clue hides: _____

CLUE 3

You'll need these for sunshine, so go take a peek in the place where we keep our shoes for the week.

Next clue hides: _____

CLUE 4

Every great adventure starts with a nap. Check under your pillow for the next part of the map.

Next clue hides: _____

CLUE 5

Almost there! Look where we brush and we splash, then hurry right back, it's time for a dash.

Next clue hides: _____

CLUE 6

The very last clue! Go back to the tree. The surprise is waiting for the whole family.
